

The best new Hamptons restaurants for summer 2025

Another Hamptons season is here and it smells good. Across the East End, restaurants — both casual and clubby — are making their summer debuts and adding flavor to the long established mix of restaurants, cafes and bars that are the South Fork's social hubs.

Expect burgers, “billionaire bacon” and boat loads of seafood.

Ready to dig into the East End? Here's a look at the newest restaurants and menus from Westhampton to Montauk.

Gurney's Montauk Resort & Seawater Spa is cooking with gas. This season, the celebrity favorite hideaway is debuting a fresh flagship dining room to replace Scarpetta — Gigi's Montauk — along with a new cafe and cocktail lounge, opening June 16.

Executive chef Justin Lee, formerly of Mina Group, and executive chef de cuisine Mbaba Danso, a Gurney's vet, are behind the new concept: a family-style menu of shareable dishes like The Angry Lobster (1.5 pounds of lobster tossed in smoky, spicy sauce), The Giant Shrimp Scampi (baked, halved shrimp in a lemongrass-infused mayo) and the signature Gigi Sushi Roll (spicy hamachi topped with tobiko and crispy shallots).

It's designed as a social stage with 4,000 square feet of elbow room for 120 guests indoors and 110 on the patio. Come to see someone you know — and everyone you want to know.
